

NOTRE DAME

in Beijing Summer Language Program

JUNE 14 – AUGUST 10, 2019

An eight-week intensive language program offered by the University of Notre Dame at Peking University in Beijing, China. Open to qualified undergraduate students enrolled in a university in the U.S. or overseas. Highlights include:

- Small-sized language lecture and drill classes
- One-on-one tutoring sessions
- Undergraduate language partners from Peking University
- Excursions and cultural events
- Guest lectures on Chinese culture and society
- Dedicated, experienced faculty and staff from Notre Dame and Peking University
- Language pledge: speak only Chinese during the program

FACULTY

Yongping Zhu, Ph.D., Program Director

Associate Professor of Chinese
Chair, Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures

University of Notre Dame

Weibing Ye, Resident Director

Assistant Teaching Professor of Chinese
Chinese Language Program Coordinator
University of Notre Dame

COURSES

1st Year Chinese is offered for students with no Chinese proficiency

2nd, 3rd, 4th, and 5th Year Chinese

SEE REVERSE FOR MORE DETAILS

INTERNATIONAL
Study Abroad

JUNE 14 – AUGUST 10, 2019

PROGRAM CALENDAR

February 1: Application deadline

February 8: Decision date

June 14: Arrive in Beijing

August 10: Departure

ELIGIBILITY

- Open to all students enrolled at U.S. or overseas universities
- Undergraduates in good standing for conduct and academics
- No prior knowledge of Chinese is required

PROGRAM FEE

approximately $8,600 (final cost announced soon)

PROGRAM FEE INCLUDES:

- 6 Notre Dame credits
- Accommodation at Peking University, including internet access
- Transport to and from airport
- Program-sponsored academic and cultural excursions
- GeoBlue international health and emergency evacuation insurance

PROGRAM FEE DOES NOT INCLUDE: airfare, meals (approx. $600), passport and visa fees, immunizations, textbooks, and personal spending money.

HOUSING AND MEALS

Students live at the Global Village, across the street from the southeast gate of Peking University. Two students share a two-bedroom, one-bathroom unit.

TO APPLY

Visit studyabroad.nd.edu/programs/china-language-summer

or scan the QR code:

Liliana Taylor
Stanford University
Anthropology Major

"Being in a foreign country is the best way to learn a language, and Notre Dame in Beijing fosters an environment where you're actively learning Chinese in and out of the classroom. After living in Beijing and attending Notre Dame's classes, I've improved my fluency more in two months than I have in a year's worth of classroom lessons. Besides their spectacular programming, their faculty and staff members are some of the most qualified and approachable professors I've met.

I am so thankful for NDIB's summer Chinese program. I came in not knowing anyone and barely speaking Chinese, but left with invaluable life skills and great friends from all over the world."

Kathleen Cooper
University of Notre Dame,
Neuroscience Major
Chinese Major

"Notre Dame's summer program in Beijing was intensive and fulfilling, so naturally I became far more fluid with Chinese; however, the best part of the experience in my opinion was how with all that work it was still extremely fun. My teachers and peer tutors taught me how to use the language to talk about what I was personally interested in; exploring the city with other students was an unceasing adventure of new tastes, smells and sights; and not a day went by when I didn't have a good laugh, regardless of if it was raining, smoggy, or I was plain tired.

I recommend NDIB mostly because of the impact that Professor Weibing Ye has had on my passion for the Chinese language - he pushes his students because he earnestly wants them to improve and be the best versions of themselves, which shines through in this program. Coming back from Beijing last fall, I realized I had grown not only as a student, but as a person, which is what really made my time overseas so invaluable."

QUESTIONS? CONTACT:
Prof. Weibing Ye: wey@nd.edu